ABOUT HERITAGE GREECE

Heritage Greece is an unforgettable free two-week educational and cultural program designed to connect college-aged, Greek-American students with their Greek heritage and foster a deeper understanding of the role of Hellenism in their lives and the world.

The Heritage Greece Program is made possible by a generous gift of the National Hellenic Society to selected Greek-American students as part of its mission to celebrate and preserve Greek heritage in the United States through the support of programs that impact young Greek Americans.

The Heritage Greece program is hosted by DERE – The American College of Greece at its beautiful, park-like campus in Athens, Greece.

The entire program is offered at no cost. The only expense to students is your travel to Washington, DC's Dulles Airport.

PROGRAM DETAILS

For an intensive two weeks, you will reside in DERE's modern residence facility just two blocks from campus in the leafy suburb of Aghia Paraskevi, just six miles from the city center. You'll attend a specially designed Greek language and culture course and will travel to Greek islands, traditional villages, and cultural and archaeological sites. You will have the opportunity to learn Greek dancing, take a Greek cooking class, and experience an insider's tour of the Acropolis museum. On DERE's campus, you can use the beautiful mountainside pool overlooking Athens, Olympic-quality athletic facilities, and modern library. Many meals will be served in Greek restaurants in Athens and the countryside while some will be served in DERE's facilities.

To further enrich the experience, selected Greek college students from DERE will journey with Greek-American students during the entire program – providing an opportunity to make friends and learn more about modern Greece.
